1. Introduction:

Gender Audit is a type of 'social audit' that scrutinizes an organization's activities from a gender perspective. It also helps the institution to recognize and understand different patterns of involvement in behavior and actions. Gender audit promotes institutional learning on gender. It is an attempt to have a good gender balance or gender equity. So, gender equity means provision of fairness and justice in the distribution of benefits, power, resources and responsibilities between women and men.

2. MAIN GOALS OF GENDER AUDIT:

- Recommends ways of addressing gender gaps and challenges.
- Advises possible improvements and innovations.
- Recognize strengths and weaknesses in promoting gender equity issues.
- Documents good quality practices toward achievement of gender equity.

3. Objectives:

The gender audit taken by our institution focus on the subsequent objectives:

1. The institute takes effective measures for the protection and security of all gender.
2. There is an Anti Ragging Redressed cell to protect both the gender from eve teasing.
3. There are no discriminations on the basis of gender.

4. Strategy

The necessary information is collected from the administrative department of college and responsible persons. The data analysis has been categorized in three different sections-

1. The Student Profiles
2. The Teaching Staff
3. The Non-Teaching Staff

5. DIFFERENT WAYS TO PROMOTE GENDER EQUITY:

1. Tackle stereotypes about gender roles in families, at the work places and in society.

2. Empower women and girls to exert their fundamental rights and aware them about their potentiality.
3. Grant and give paternity leave to build stronger families and a healthy society.
4. Establish and execute flexible family-friendly workplaces.
5. Respect reproductive rights and bodily autonomy.
6. Share the care.
7. Help to end gender-based violence.

6. Data Analysis:

Conclusion

The Gender Audit Report presented herein focuses on the examination of gender dynamics within the institute. Notably, the analysis delves into the phenomenon wherein the percentage of female enrollment surpasses that of male enrollment, particularly within disciplines such as Social Sciences and Humanities. This report endeavors to provide a comprehensive justification for conducting a gender audit despite the apparent gender parity in enrollment rates.

In conclusion, while the higher enrollment of female students in Social Sciences and Humanities subjects may seem indicative of gender parity, a closer examination through a gender audit is imperative to ensure true equity and inclusivity within the institute. By uncovering hidden inequalities, assessing educational experiences, understanding career trajectories, evaluating support services, and promoting inclusive policies, the gender audit will empower the institution to foster a more equitable and supportive environment for all members of the academic community.
