The celebration of the 13th National Voters Day 2023 was organized jointly by the Department of Political Science and the Department of Philosophy on January 25, 2023, at 1 PM in SN Bose Hall. The focal point of the event was a seminar centered around the theme "Electoral Literacy for Stronger Democracy." The seminar aimed to promote awareness and understanding of the electoral process, contributing to the overall strengthening of democratic values.

The distinguished presence of Principal Dr. Swapan Kumar Misra and other dignitaries added significance to the occasion. A substantial number of students from both departments actively participated, demonstrating their commitment to civic engagement and democratic principles.

Principal Dr. Swapan Kumar Misra, in his address, delivered a thought-provoking lecture on the philosophical perspective of a stronger democracy. His insights provided a philosophical foundation for understanding the crucial role of informed and engaged citizens in the democratic process. Faculty members from both the Department of Political Science and the Department of Philosophy also shared their expertise, delivering valuable lectures that enhanced the participants' understanding of the electoral system and its implications for a robust democracy.

The program concluded with a vote of thanks presented by Dr. Alok Ranjan Khatua, an assistant professor in the Philosophy Department. Dr. Khatua expressed gratitude to all attendees, emphasizing the importance of electoral literacy in fostering a vibrant and robust democratic system.

The joint celebration not only commemorated the National Voters Day but also underscored the collaborative efforts of the two departments in promoting civic awareness and democratic values among the student community. The seminar provided a platform for interdisciplinary discussions and insights, enriching the understanding of students regarding their role as informed and responsible voters in a democratic society.
